

Seminar on taxation and career development trends with international professional certifications

On November 16, 2024, the seminar “taxation and career development trends with international professional certifications” was successfully held, attracting great interest from students of the faculty of public management – real estate, university of finance and marketing.

At the seminar, speakers from ICAEW provided in-depth information about the CFAB certificate—one of the most prestigious international professional qualifications in the fields of finance, accounting, and taxation. Students received clear guidance on the study roadmap, knowledge components, and career opportunities that the certificate offers.

The seminar also served as a valuable opportunity for lecturers, students, and industry professionals in the field of taxation to network and exchange experiences, contributing to the enhancement of training quality and scientific research.
