

Seminar on “sharing teaching experiences in the sustainable development course”

On december 18, 2024, the faculty of public management – real estate successfully organized a seminar on “sharing teaching experiences in the sustainable development course” for all faculty members.

Figure 1. M.A. Đỗ Gioan Hảo providing orientation for the seminar content

The seminar featured active participation from lecturers who had taught the sustainable development course during the third semester of 2024. They shared teaching experiences, reflected on lessons learned, and proposed new solutions to enhance the quality of the course in the future.

In addition, the seminar also attracted new faculty members from the department, who engaged in lively discussions and expressed interest in contributing to the teaching of the sustainable development course.

Figure 4. M.PP. Nguyễn Thị Tố Nga sharing how to adapt the general lecture content into personalized teaching while ensuring consistency in course knowledge; and methods for involving students in the assessment process to ensure fairness and transparency

Figure 5. Dr. Nguyễn Thanh Nhã delivering the concluding remarks of the seminar

Figure 6. Faculty members participating in the seminar posing for a commemorative photo